NEWS OF THE PAST: In 1943 Arlene Francis opened a new quiz show called Blind Date. Six men in uniform, while hidden behind a screen, vie for a Stork Club date with three young glamour girls on the other side. It's up to the guys to talk themselves into a date.) (Eddie Cantor, the loveable comedy star of NBC in 1943, hearing of a project which would remove 6000 refugee children from Hitler-Held Europe, agreed to raise funds himself for 500 of them. The British government has agreed to admit them to Palestine but the funds must be raised to pay transportation and subsequent support.) (Front Page Farrell, the drama which reflects the actual news of the day gets much of its vital and current information from the Office of War Information and the Manpower Commission.) (Kay Kyser was the first president of Records for Our Fighting Men Inc., an organization which collected old and broken discs and sold them for scrap; then in return bought new popular and classical records and promptly shipped them to camps here and abroad for Our Fighting Men. Kate Smith and Gene Autry were among the vice presidents.) (Ralph Edwards of Truth or Consequences, on a fifteen city War Bond Tour, raised $188,481,082.00 to help win the war.) (Proctor & Gamble led all national radio advertisers in 1942 with $18,651,668.00 to bring listening pleasure. Lever Bros. were second with $10,991,018.00) (Christopher Morely starred in The Secony Sketchbook in 1935 sponsored by Standard Oil Co. of N.Y., over CBS; also included Virginia Verrill and Johnny Green's Orchestra.) (1935 Fibber McGee and Molly were backed by Ulderico Marcelli's Orchestra plus the Ronnie and Van comedy vocal duo.) (1936 Kate Smith was doing a new program called Command Appearance where people who did heroic deeds, lifesaving, etc. but would have never been known except to those they helped or saved; they appeared in a dramatization of their deed and they were awarded cash. Twelve year old Kathryn Van Horn was the first to receive $500.00) (What really started the Benny/Allen feud? On a Town Hall program, Dec. 30, 1936 Fred Allen has, as his guest, 10 year old Stuart Canin. Stuart played Franz Schubert's-The Bee, an extremely fast and showey number requiring considerable technical ability. When done, Allen remarked ad lib that a certain alleged violinist by the name of Benny ought to be ashamed of himself for his poor fiddling. The next Sunday, Jan 3, 1937 Benny retorted in an open letter to Allen that he had played The Bee himself at the age of 10. The rest is radio history.) (1954 Red Skelton signed with Frederick W. Ziv for 3 years at $1,500,000.00 for a daily 1/2 hr. show. The deal also allowed for TV and movie work. Ziv, being one of the largest producers of transcribed broadcasts.) (Martha Raye, born Maggie O'Reed in Butte, Montana made herself famous singing Mr. Paganini in Rhythm on the Range. She appeared regular on the Al Jolson Show also appeared with Bob Hope, Edgar Bergen, and Eddie Cantor. She made her TV debut in London in 1948 while appearing at the Palladium.) (Cliff Arquette, was the son of the vaudeville team of Arquette and Clark. He left high school at 14 to organize his own band. Later he worked as a caddy until he joined Hank Halstead's Band. He had his own shows Glamour, Manor, & Point Sublime. Left radio for awhile to go into the toy business. His hobby for years was wood carvings and marionettes.) (1947 Harry James and wife, Betty Grable went to court in an effort to get back $105,000.00 paid for a string of horses they claimed wouldn't beat a turtle to the finish line.) (1953 Jerry Lewis was fined $1,000.00 by the AGVA, American Guild of Variety Artists, for doing a gratis show at Ciro's night club in Hollywood. AGVA deeply frowns on performers appearing on an ad-lib basis without pay; if so, they are fined. Jerry had been on probation from a previous violation so he was fined an extra $250.00.
